TIDE March 2017

Manley Art Center Gallery Featured Artist for March

MARYJANE CARLSON

Turning mud and more into art

Our PBAA featured artist for March is versatile member Maryjane Carlson—potter, woodworker and occasional two-dimensional artist. And as many know, Maryjane is also member and instructor of our hand-building pottery group, The Mudslingers.

But pottery is far from the early direction of Maryjane's career. When she earned a Bachelor's Degree from Baltimore's Goucher College back in 1989, it was for studies in biology.

Though Maryjane started out in academics, art has always been an interest. Over the years she went from being a NMFS fisheries observer to spending more time working hands-on. For the past 14 years that involved the meticulous work of remodeling high-end homes, including everything from demolition to finish painting.

One of her jobs included helping to remodel Poncho's Mexican Restaurant, where she made the new myrtlewood bar and counter, installed trim details and refinished tables. Along the way, she attended painting, pastel and drawing classes from local artists and has independently studied wood carving, as well as taught it at SOCC. For years she has sold her woodwork at craft shows along the coast and in the Bay Area.

Now, there's Maryjane's business, Whistling Fish Pottery. In addition to her work (and play) with The Mudslingers, she designs, creates, fires, markets and sells her work internationally on the Internet, as well as at local craft shows.

As she describes it, "My work tends to have a bit of an oriental style, although I'm also fond of textures and the way different finishes highlight and break on the textures.

At this moment, I'm mostly making small plant pots for bonsai and succulents. I also make larger pots and orchid pots. I've started to introduce functional plates and bowls to my line, and I occasionally work on sculptural and decorative pieces."

Those who know Maryjane's work—which often wins prizes in our Azalea Festival Art Show—are quick to recognize and praise it. One of her clients puts it this way, "Maryjane is an innovative pottery artist and a meticulous crafts person; she is capable of accomplishing any 'artistic' task presented to her."

So much for mud.

President's Message

Happy St. Patrick's Day! So you know I'm going to ask you to wear green to the general meeting! Come and socialize with the members and do stay for the demo by Chelle Hanna showing us some mixed media.

Spring is definitely in the air, we even have some daffodils out. This is a time to get some nice photos of the colorful bulbs in bloom and maybe even do a plein-aire of a garden or flowering trees. Speaking of gar-dens, our garden in front of the building will need some weeding and care. If you'd like to help with this on-going project contact Michelle Chegus at 541-254-0523.

We are looking into purchasing a heat pump (ductless) for the class-room and the gallery. This winter has been very cold and those little wall heaters just don't do the job well. Once the heat pumps are working the wall heaters will be shut off so we will have enough electric power to run the heaters as well as the kiln and light the rooms. It will be a much needed improvement. We do have monies in a building fund for the expense.

The Chamber of Commerce is asking the community for ideas on a theme for the Azalea Festival. If you have an idea contact them by email at brookingsharborchamber.com.

If you want to continue receiving the TIDE be sure to pay your membership dues. This is the last newsletter for non-renewals.

Gallery News for March

Greetings,

We thank Buzz Stewart for sharing his outstanding art work for February. We welcome Maryjane Carlson and her pottery as the Featured Artist for the month of March.

Our members have filled the gallery with many animal paintings. Come see them while you can. The last day they will be hanging is Sunday, March 5th as Art Change-out Day for both the Gallery and the Panels will be on Monday, March 6th starting at 11:00am.

The print rack is over-filled. If you have prints in the rack, please remove all duplicates and the golden oldies that have been sitting there for over a year. We need your help in this matter.

If your art has soiled frames or mats or dirty glass it will not be hung in the gallery. We have been a little lax in this area but we are an art gallery and want to look like one.

The rules state that all frames must have a wire on the back for hanging. Saw tooth hangers and any other type of hanger will not work with our system. The frames should also be tight and the corners square.

Till next time . . .

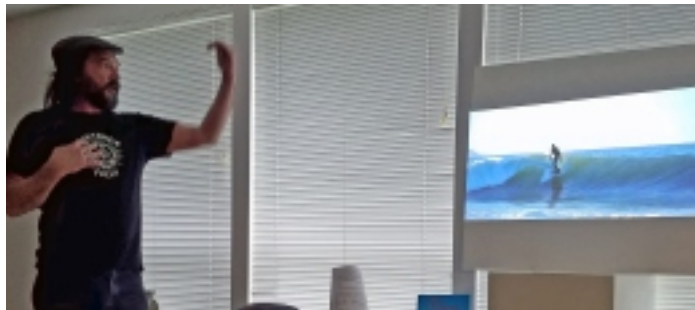

— Michael Dwaileebe

Hidden in each issue of the TIDE is this pelican. Sometimes he's white or maybe transparent. He can be larger or really small. Did you find the one in the February issue? He was nestled amongst the Thank You in the calendar. Can you spot the March pelican?

The Azalea Festival Art Show will be coming up soon on Memorial Day Weekend. Time to start planning on which paintings you are going to enter into the show. The entry day will be at Manley a month before the show. You will bring only your entry forms and fees, not your artwork. The artwork will be delivered to the show on the Friday evening before the judging and opening on Saturday. It takes a lot of volunteers to run the show. Please consider helping out.

If you were not able to attend the February General Meeting you missed an interesting presentation on photography by David Lovell. He showed photos from around the globe and the stories behind them.
